

Sample Question and Answers

1.What is your greatest weakness?

Sample Answer 1

I tend to say yes to everything and then end up taking on too many responsibilities. In the past, this has resulted in me feeling slightly overwhelmed at times, simply because I have taken on too much work in addition to my own tasks and projects.

I need to learn to say no when appropriate, but of course, you have my word that I will take on as much work as possible in this role.

Sample Answer 2

Sometimes I get too much into the details of a project and spend time analysing the smallest things. But now I have been checking up on myself regularly and trying to focus on the bigger picture so that I can ensure quality but also meet the deadline.

Step 1: Identify a genuine weakness that isn't a core skill for that job

Step 2: Share what you're doing to improve the weakness.

Step 3: Share the result of your effort.

2.Why should we hire you?

Sample Answer 1

You should hire me because I bring a strong combination of skills and experience that align perfectly with the role.I possess a strong background in data analysis and machine learning. With a degree in Computer Science and hands-on experience in developing predictive models,I am confident that i will be a great fit for the job role. Additionally, I excel in collaborative environments and have a proven track record of achieving collective goals. I am confident that I will make valuable contributions to the team and drive the success of the organization.

Sample Answer 2

As a fresher, I bring a fresh perspective, enthusiasm, and a strong willingness to learn and grow in the industry. I may not have years of professional experience, but I possess a solid educational foundation and a passion for [industry/domain]. I am a quick learner, adaptable, and eager to take on new challenges. By hiring me, you'll get someone who is dedicated, open to feedback, and committed to making valuable contributions to your team. I am excited to bring my skills and enthusiasm to contribute to the success of your company.

3. Tell me something about yourself

Sample Answer 1

I'm an engineering graduate from XYZ university specialized in computer science with overall CGPA X. Along with my degree, I have completed a pg program in data science and machine learning using python from an institute named Dataisgood. The course provided me with an in depth knowledge of excel, sql, python, stats, machine learning etc. My goal is to build a successful career as a data analyst. I have done a 3 months of internship with X where i got an opportunity to work on myriad number of projects such as employee promotion predicting project, Player performance review project, Flight price prediction project etc. My favourite project was the flight price prediction project wherein we developed a machine learning model that can accurately predict the prices of flights.

4. What are your salary expectations?

1. Research the average salary range for the position you are applying for.
2. Never quote a fixed amount.
3. Offer a salary range plus some options for negotiation
4. Justify your salary expectation

Sample Answer 1

I am looking to receive between 40k-50k monthly. Based on my skill set and experience level, I feel that this is a comfortable and appropriate range for my work. I'm however, flexible and open to hearing about the company's compensation expectations for this position.

Sample Answer 2

I do understand that similar positions to the one I'm applying for offer salaries between 45k-50k monthly. Given my 5 years of experience in this industry, my expertise, and skills, I would expect to receive a salary in that range. However, I am open to hear your thoughts regarding the same.

Sample Answer 3

I am seeking a position that pays between 45000-50000 monthly, but I am open to negotiate salary depending on benefits, bonuses, and other opportunities.

4.Can you explain the gap in your CV?

Sample Answer 1

While working in my previous organisation, I identified a few fields wherein I wanted to learn more. Since that wasn't possible to achieve while working full time, I decided to quit my job & study more to fulfil those gaps.

5.Why do you want to switch your job?

Sample Answer 1

I have done my best for my current organisation. I strongly felt that, It's high time to move to a new place and develop a fresh perspective with a competitive role that you are offering.

Sample Answer 2

I have been working with the X company for two years now. I need to push myself to the next level and for that a change was required.

Sample Answer 3

I want to change my career path for future growth potential and new challenges. I feel my skills and experience will transfer well into this new career.

Sample Answer 4

The reason I am looking for change is that I feel like now is the time to expand my horizon. I have worked in my current organisation quite a long time and while I am grateful for all the opportunities that were presented to me there, I want to go beyond my current role, explore different avenues and take up challenging roles and I believe that your company will be the perfect place for me to push and grow myself as an individual.

6. Do you have any questions for us?

- Ask questions about the role
- Ask questions about the company

7. Where do you see yourself in the next five years?

Craft a response that explores your:

- Position-related goals
- Potential experiences within the company over the next five years
- Possible certifications, skills or achievements you might obtain
- Aspirations for growth within the role

NOTE

How to answer to a question you don't know the answer to

I am glad that you brought this up. I am very keen to learn everything about SQL and C++ and for this I am pursuing a certification course. However, I am still at the stage of learning. I can assure you that once you decide to take me on board, under proper training and guidance I will be able to learn quickly.